DESCRIBE THE PRESENT AND ORIGINAL (IF KNOWN) PHYSICAL APPEARANCE

This complex is now improved with a late 19th century balloon frame house and frame barn. The house is a two story, three bay structure with a central entrance. Windows have two over two pane sashes and architraves with pointed top pieces. The present house predates an earlier log building which stood just to the north of it where evidence of the foundations remains. According to the present owner the log house was a two story structure of approximately 30 X 15 feet with a stone chimney.

An old road passes through the property. Apparently it linked St. Paul's Road with Spickler Road at one time.

The present owners found on the property a stone mortar, a round stone with a conical depression used for hand grinding. Its age is unknown.

STATEMENT OF SIGNIFICANCE

This frame farmstead is typical of the last quarter of the 19th century. However, much evidence of earlier habitation remains, with the older log house now destroyed and the mortar found on the property. Perhaps the mortar is an indian relic.
